Respected Sir, I hope this email finds you well.

My friends and I are really excited about Novus '26 and would like to contribute to the event in our own way. We would like to organise and host either a technical or non-technical event as part of Novus '26.

We are willing to take responsibility for planning and organising the event and will make sure that everything is carried out smoothly while following the guidelines provided by the college.

We kindly request you to grant us permission to organise the event. We would be happy to discuss our ideas and the proposed event in more detail and take your guidance on how we can proceed.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Regards,
K D Surya Varman
